

Alexis McBride

Room 1908 Trump International Hotel

Profile

Creation of a new position utilizing my unique set of talents and skills. The name of the position shall be Accidental Goodwill Ambassador and I shall be answerable only to The Emperor.

Job Responsibilities

FRONT DESK

Perform the coffee run for bellman and other front desk personnel; assist in performing Fond Farewells, waving and occasionally hugging; use the mantra "Open Sesame" to the doors to ensure they open properly; assign nicknames to the bellman so that they will feel comfortable and at home; take pictures of people with their/my iPhone; answer the phone when staff is otherwise occupied "Good morning/Good afternoon/Good Evening. etc. etc.

CONCIERGE DESK

Go on tours and report back with the expertise of being a stupid tourist and knowing nothing; Attend any and all theatre productions, write reviews; make theatre suggestions to guests upon request to be augmented by a special theatre program; cheer up the Chief Concierge as he takes his job and life too seriously; give spontaneous support to staff. An example follows: A woman guest with five pieces of luggage was seeing a cheap and immediate ride to the airport but a regular taxi would not be operative due to the enormous baggage. I suggested she leave her five bags behind and pick them up on a subsequent visit. Chief Concierge laughed, but then so did the guest.

SPECIAL EVENTS

On Mother's Day 2017 I was appointed the Mom of the staff and gave hugs to staff members; I could hop like a bunny at Easter, curtsy for Victoria Day; no ideas as yet for Father's Day; I could drape myself in the Canadian flag for Canada Day and paint my face in red and white. Some experience as this was done for Hallowe'en 2011 (it did not go over big but I was in the USA after all.)

ALL PERIEWS

Noisy kid containment done by paying attention to the child and using old fashioned skills such as Shush and Peek-A-Boo; teach proper etiquette to potential hotel guests allowing occupancy only if they pass the test. Being a guest in this hotel should be a privilege and rude people should reside in a rude hotel; perform good will ambassador tasks such as chatting up guests and Drop-Ins. (this function is presently being performed); Model appropriate dress at all times.

CHAMPAGNE BAR AND LOUNGE

Clap at the end of musical performances, dancing instructions with extra remuneration for lessons in dancing on the table; lay taster of new items to be added to menu.

REVIEW OF POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The signage is not working well particularly at the W. Georgia entrance. Although there is a belief that people should be greeted; in practicality, there is a look of sheer confusion and frustration on the faces of potential guests. This shows that the lack of signage needs to be reconsidered particularly given the stupid layout of the hotel with entry off the back alley.

Either dump that stupid stamp program or assign one person near the door to stamp the book. It takes necessary time away from guests and is very irritating.

MOTT 32

Assist the brilliant sommelier in tasting and then consuming massive amounts of wine; provide encouragement, support, empathy and caring to all staff, encouraging their best selves; listen to the marvelous singing voice of C.C.C. the second.

OTHER TASKS AS ASSIGNED BY THE EMPEROR

As long as they do not involve singing or math, see below.

Education

Bachelor of Arts, University of Alberta, Edmonton, AB.

J.D. San Francisco Law School, San Francisco, CA.

M.A. Dominican University, San Rafael, CA.

Completed all course work for Master's at City University London, UK

Certificate in Biography from the University of East Anglia, UK

Skills

Multiple and varied but admittedly unable to sing and not very proficient at math.

References

To be provided later as well as suggestions for compensation. Compensation MUST include the ear phone thing so I can bug people constantly